The notice was attached as Exhibit 99.1 to Stratasys’ Report of Foreign Private Issuer on Form 6-K (a Form 6-K), which was furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) on August 23, 2023. As described in the notice, at the Meeting, Stratasys will present to its shareholders, among other matters, a proposal to approve certain matters to be effected in connection with the Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Merger Agreement”), dated May 25, 2023, by and among Stratasys, Tetris Sub Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Stratasys, and Desktop Metal, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Desktop Metal”). Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, Merger Sub will merge with and into Desktop Metal (the “Merger”), with Desktop Metal surviving as a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Stratasys, and with Desktop Metal’s shareholders receiving 0.123 Stratasys ordinary shares in exchange for each share of Desktop Metal common stock held by them.

On August 28, 2023, Stratasys filed with the SEC, pursuant to Rule 424(b)(3) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and began mailing to its shareholders of record as of the record date for the Meeting, a joint proxy statement/prospectus (the “proxy statement/prospectus”) that serves as Stratasys’ proxy statement for the Meeting. The proxy statement/prospectus also serves as a proxy statement for a special meeting of stockholders of Desktop Metal at which the adoption of the Merger Agreement will be considered by Desktop Metal’s stockholders, and a prospectus of Stratasys under Section 5 of the Securities Act with respect to the Stratasys ordinary shares to be issued to Desktop Metal stockholders pursuant to the Agreement.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE JOINT PROXY STATEMENT/ PROSPECTUS

This document serves as a supplement (the “Supplement”) to the joint proxy statement/prospectus (as supplemented from time to time, the “Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus”) filed by Stratasys Ltd., an Israeli company (“Stratasys,” “we” or “our”), with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) on August 28, 2023 for Stratasys’ Extraordinary General Meeting of Shareholders to be held on September 28, 2023 (the “Stratasys EGM”).

All page references in the information below are to the pages in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus and, unless the context otherwise requires, all capitalized terms used but not defined below have the meanings ascribed to them in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus. This Supplement is being furnished by Stratasys to the SEC to supplement certain information contained in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus and should be read in conjunction with the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus, which should be read in its entirety. Except as otherwise set forth below, the information set forth in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus remains unchanged. The Stratasys board of directors unanimously recommends that shareholders vote “FOR” the proposals set forth in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus. If you have not already submitted a proxy or voting instructions for use at the Stratasys EGM since the distribution of the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus, you are urged to do so promptly.

The publication of this Supplement does not affect the validity of any proxy card or voting instructions that Stratasys shareholders may have previously received or delivered. If a shareholder has already submitted a proxy or voting instructions, he, she or it will be considered to have voted as specified in that proxy or voting instructions and does not need to take any action, unless he, she or it wishes to revoke his, her or its proxy or change his, her or its voting instructions.

If you have any questions concerning this Supplement, the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus or the Stratasys EGM or need help voting your Stratasys ordinary shares, you may contact our proxy solicitor, Morrow Sodali LLC, at 1-800-662-5200 (toll-free within the United States) or at 1-203-658-9400 (outside the United States), or email Morrow Sodali at: SSYS@info.morrowsodali.com.

SUPPLEMENTAL DISCLOSURES TO THE JOINT PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS

The Section titled “Questions and Answers” in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus is hereby amended as follows:

The answer to the second question on page 9 “How do recent events, including the recently expired unsolicited partial tender offer by Nano Dimension and the proposals received by Stratasys from 3D Systems Corporation, impact my decision as to how to vote on the Stratasys proposals at the Stratasys EGM?” is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

A: Stratasys was recently the subject of an unsolicited partial tender offer by Nano to purchase Stratasys ordinary shares, which was launched on May 25, 2023 and expired on July 31, 2023, which is referred to as the Nano Tender Offer. Stratasys’ board of directors expressed its unanimous recommendation to Stratasys’ shareholders that the Nano Tender Offer was inadequate and substantially undervalued Stratasys. Given recent market volatility and given the potential for any party—including, but not limited to, Nano, which still holds approximately 14.1% of the outstanding Stratasys ordinary shares as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus—to employ coercive tactics similar to those recently employed by Nano, the extension of Stratasys’ shareholder rights plan pursuant to the Stratasys rights plan extension proposal is intended to provide the Stratasys board of directors the ability to protect Stratasys shareholders from such coercive attempts to acquire control of Stratasys. Nano or another third party could launch an additional hostile partial tender offer similar to the Nano Tender Offer, which, like the Nano Tender Offer, could be a partial tender offer and/or may be inadequate and substantially undervalue Stratasys. Any such partial tender offer, if successful, could enable Nano or such other third party to purchase the shares held by the remaining shareholders at a significant discount to the price offered in such partial tender offer, resulting in substantially reduced liquidity for such remaining shareholders.

While Nano has made public statements suggesting it may divest itself of its investment in Stratasy, in the past, Nano claimed that it was not bound by its public statements regarding its withdrawal of its nominees for the Stratasy board, and it could once again seek to gain control of Stratasy in a coercive manner to the detriment of Stratasy's public shareholders. Such a strategy could also be employed by an unrelated third party. In order to enable the Stratasy board of directors to protect shareholders from such tactics (even after consummation of the Merger), the Stratasy board of directors encourages Stratasy shareholders to approve the Stratasy rights plan extension proposal under which the plan would be extended to the one-year anniversary of its original termination date, i.e., until July 24, 2024.

Stratasy has also received multiple unsolicited proposals from 3D Systems Corporation, or 3D Systems, to acquire Stratasy. Stratasy's board of directors initially determined that 3D Systems' July 13, 2023 revised proposal (proposing to acquire Stratasy for $7.50 in cash and 1.5444 newly issued shares of common stock of 3D Systems per Stratasy ordinary share) would reasonably be expected to result in a "Superior Proposal" pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement. Following an extensive due diligence process, Stratasy communicated its concerns regarding the 3D Systems' proposal to 3D Systems and indicated that the proposal was not itself a transaction which Stratasy would be prepared to enter into. These concerns related to the amount and form of consideration proposed by 3D Systems (including in light of the significant decline in the stock price of 3D Systems), closing certainty of the proposed transaction and management of the combined company. 3D Systems revised its proposal on September 6, 2023, offering $7.00 in cash and 1.6387 newly issued shares of common stock of 3D Systems per Stratasy ordinary share. After consultation with its outside financial and legal advisors, the Stratasy board of directors unanimously determined that the September 6 proposal continued to significantly undervalue Stratasy and did not constitute a "Superior Proposal" pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement, and accordingly terminated discussions with 3D Systems. Stratasy provided additional detail regarding the reasons for the Stratasy board of directors' determination in a press release issued by Stratasy on September 12, 2023, including concerns regarding 3D Systems' growth prospects, structural challenges in 3D Systems' portfolio, a lack of support for 3D Systems' cost synergy claims, regulatory consummation risks and concerns regarding the ability of 3D Systems' management team to run a combined company.

The Stratasy board has not changed its unanimous approval, recommendation and declaration of advisability of the Merger with Desktop Metal. The Stratasy board of directors strongly encourages you to vote in favor of the Stratasy Merger-related proposal at the Stratasy EGM, and to thereby enable the value-adding Merger with Desktop Metal.

The last paragraph of the disclosure in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus in the section "The Merger—Background of the Merger" beginning on page 90 is hereby replaced with the following paragraphs:

On August 22, 2023, representatives of management and the board of directors of Stratasy and 3D Systems met, and the Stratasy representatives provided feedback in regards to the latest 3D Systems proposal, including in regards to the results of the due diligence review of 3D Systems undertaken by Stratasy. The Stratasy representatives conveyed to the 3D Systems representatives particular areas of concern with respect to the proposed transaction and combined company, based on the results of the due diligence review undertaken by Stratasy, following the execution of the Stratasy-3D Systems NDA. These concerns related to the amount and form of consideration proposed by 3D Systems (including in light of the significant decline in the stock price of 3D Systems), closing certainty of the proposed transaction and management of the combined company. Based on these factors and on Stratasy's evaluation of the latest 3D Systems proposal and a possible transaction with 3D Systems, representatives of Stratasy conveyed to the 3D Systems representatives that the latest 3D Systems proposal was not itself a transaction which Stratasy would be prepared to enter into.

On September 6, 2023, Stratasys received a revised proposal from 3D Systems, pursuant to which 3D Systems would acquire Stratasys for $7.00 in cash and 1.6387 newly issued shares of common stock of 3D Systems per Stratasys ordinary share, including proposed forms of a merger agreement (the “3D Revised Merger Agreement”) and 3D Systems’ disclosure schedules to the 3D Revised Merger Agreement. Under the revised proposal, Stratasys shareholders would own approximately 46% of the combined company. Among other terms, the 3D Revised Merger Agreement contemplated a termination fee payable by 3D Systems in the event that the transaction was terminated due to a failure to obtain antitrust approval, and a $10 million cash retention pool to be allocated among employees of Stratasys and 3D Systems on an inverse pro rata basis relative to projected pro forma ownership. The Revised 3D Merger Agreement otherwise did not contain significant changes from the merger agreement received by Stratasys on July 13, 2023.

On September 10, 2023, the Stratasys board of directors held a meeting with certain members of Stratasys’ management team and advisors, including representatives of J.P. Morgan, Meitar, Wachtell Lipton and Joele Frank, to discuss and evaluate the revised 3D Systems proposal. At the meeting, representatives of J.P. Morgan described their financial analysis with respect to the proposal. The Stratasys board discussed and considered J.P. Morgan’s financial analysis with respect to the proposal, as well as the transactions contemplated by the Revised 3D Merger Agreement and Stratasys’ other prospects, including the pending transaction with Desktop Metal, and unanimously determined that the revised 3D Systems proposal continued to significantly undervalue Stratasys and did not constitute a “Superior Proposal” pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement, and accordingly instructed Stratasys management to terminate discussions with 3D Systems.

On September 12, 2023, Stratasys issued a press release confirming receipt of 3D Systems’ revised proposal and announcing the Stratasys board’s determination that it did not constitute a “Superior Proposal” under the terms of the Merger Agreement and that accordingly Stratasys had terminated discussions with 3D Systems. In the press release, Stratasys provided additional detail regarding the reasons for the Stratasys board of directors’ determination, including its concerns regarding 3D Systems’ growth prospects, structural challenges in 3D Systems’ portfolio, a lack of support for 3D Systems’ cost synergy claims, regulatory consummation risks and concerns regarding the ability of 3D Systems’ management team to run a combined company.

On September 13, 2023, Stratasys received a merger agreement from 3D Systems that was substantially similar to the Revised 3D Merger Agreement, which 3D Systems included as an exhibit to its Current Report on Form 8-K filed on the same day. 3D Systems issued a press release shortly thereafter announcing its delivery of the merger agreement. The press release contained several mischaracterizations of the Stratasys board of directors and its extensive engagement with 3D Systems over the preceding two months.

On September 14, 2023, Stratasys issued a press release reiterating the Stratasys board’s determination regarding 3D Systems’ revised proposal, which was unchanged since September 6, 2023, and correcting the mischaracterizations contained in 3D Systems’ press release.

Also on September 14, 2023, Stratasys released an investor presentation highlighting the significant issues raised by 3D Systems’ proposed transaction.

The Stratasys board reaffirms its unanimous approval, recommendation and declaration of advisability of the Merger with Desktop Metal. The Stratasys board of directors strongly encourages you to vote in favor of the Stratasys Merger-related proposal at the Stratasys EGM, and to thereby enable the value-adding Merger with Desktop Metal.
